

WINE TASTING IN CILENTO

Half Day Tour

The Cilento coast is home to a great team of young, dynamic wine producers who have reinvented the image of the Cilento region by refreshing old family traditions and paving the way towards a new era of wine production among the UNESCO-protected grounds of the Cilento National Park

The Bruno winery produces only 10,000 bottles per year and their wines are made from indigenous varietals of grapes such as Fiano and Aglianico. Wine experts have referred to their productions as “wines to be eaten,” as they are highly fragrant and contain a high alcohol contents. In addition to tasting the precious red and white wines, you’ll also have the opportunity to taste the locally produced olive oils.
